1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Respondent State of California Department of Transportation (“State”) demurs to the Petition 3 for Writ of Mandate and Complaint for Injunctive Relief brought by Mark Baker (“Petitioner”) on 4 December 16, 2024 (“Petition”). Petitioner challenges the implementation of the “Bay Lights 360 5 Project,” which consists of an art installation of LED lights on the San Francisco - Oakland Bay 6 Bridge (“Bay Bridge”). (Pet. ¶¶ 1-2.) The Petition alleges five causes of action against the State: the 7 first for violation of the California Environmental Quality Act (“CEQA”); the second for violation of 8 the National Environmental Policy Act (“NEPA”); the third for violation of the Americans with 9 Disabilities Act (“ADA”); the fourth for violation of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (“Section 10 504”); and the fifth¹ for violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the 11 United States Constitution (“Equal Protection Clause”).

12 All causes of action alleged against the State are deficient for uncertainty and failure to allege 13 facts sufficient to establish standing. In addition, the First Cause of Action fails to state a claim 14 against the State under CEQA, because the State is not the lead agency and thus did not make the 15 CEQA determinations challenged by Petitioner. In addition, the First Cause of Action is barred as a 16 matter of law by the CEQA statute of limitations period(s). The Second Cause of Action for alleged 17 violation of NEPA is barred as a matter of law because this Court has no jurisdiction over NEPA 18 challenges, which are federal claims within the exclusive jurisdiction of federal courts. Finally, 19 Petitioner’s Third, Fourth, and “Sixth” Causes of Action for alleged violations of the ADA, Section 20 504, and the Equal Protection Clause fail because Petitioner cites to no law that has allegedly been 21 violated in relation to the use of LED lights and, indeed, he admits there are no such laws. In 22 addition, the Petition otherwise fails to allege facts sufficient to establish claims against the State 23 under the ADA, Section 504, or the Equal Protection Clause.

24 These fatally deficient causes of action cannot be cured and, accordingly, the State’s 25 demurrer to all causes of action should be sustained without leave to amend.

26 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

27 _____
28 ¹ Petitioner’s fifth claim is listed as the “Sixth Cause of Action.” For consistency purposes, this cause of action will be referenced as the “Sixth” Cause of Action.

1 The Petition was filed on December 16, 2024 and names as Respondents the Bay Area Toll 2 Authority (“BATA”), the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (“MTC”), the State, and the 3 Federal Highway Administration (“FHWA”).² The Petition broadly alleges that all Respondents 4 began work on the Bay Lights 360 Project without performing the required CEQA, NEPA, and ADA 5 analyses. (Pet. ¶¶1, 4.) The Petition also broadly alleges the Respondents failed to comply with the 6 ADA, Section 504, and the Equal Protection Clause. (Pet. ¶ 4.)

7 BATA is the lead agency that approved and is carrying out the Project. (Pet. ¶¶ 7, 36; see also 8 Aug. 15, 2023 Notice of Exemption, attached as Exh. C to BATA and MTC’s Feb. 21, 2025 Request 9 for Judicial Notice [RJN], which the State incorporates in full herein.) On August 15, 2023, BATA, 10 as the lead agency, filed a Notice of Exemption with the San Francisco County Clerk-Recorder. (Pet.
11 ¶ 36; RJN, Exh. C.) BATA determined that the Project is exempt from CEQA on the basis it would 12 not result in significant effects on the environment. (RJN, Exh. C.) The Petition alleges that an 13 Environmental Impact Report (“EIR”) should have been prepared instead and that the August 15, 14 2023 Notice of Exemption was “unjustified.” (Pet. ¶¶ 4, 21.) The Petition seeks a writ of mandate 15 requiring all Respondents to prepare an EIR. (Pet. ¶¶ 21, 72.)

16 Prior to bringing this demurrer, and pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 17 430.41, counsel for the State met and conferred with the Petitioner via exchanged letters and emails, 18 and via videoconference. (Flint Decl. ¶¶ 2-7.) The Petitioner declined to dismiss the Petition against 19 the State. (Flint Decl. ¶ 8.)

20 III. LEGAL ARGUMENT

21 A. Demurrer Is Proper

22 A demurrer shall be sustained when a court does not have jurisdiction over the action, where 23 the court lacks jurisdiction over a cause of action alleged, and/or where the petition fails to state facts 24 sufficient to constitute a cause of action. (Code Civ. Proc., §§ 430.10, subs. (a), (e); 430.50, subd.
25 (a); Cedar Fair, L.P. v. City of Santa Clara (2011) 194 Cal.App.4th 1150, 1158-1159.) A demurrer 26 is proper where a defense that would bar recovery is disclosed on the face of the complaint, in 27 exhibits attached to the complaint, or in matters judicially noticed. (Code Civ. Proc., § 430.30; Dwan

28 ² FHWA was dismissed with prejudice on December 24, 2024.

1 v. Dixon (1963) 216 Cal.App.2d 260, 265; Code Civ. Proc., § 430.30, subd. (a); Blank v. Kirwan
2 (1985) 39 Cal.3d 311, 318.) When there is no reasonable possibility that a pleading can be cured, a 3 demurrer should be sustained without leave to amend. (Blank v. Kirwan, supra, 39 Cal.3d 311, 318; 4 McDonald v. Superior Court (1986) 180 Cal.App.3d 297, 303-304; City of Chula Vista v. County of 5 San Diego (1994) 23 Cal.App.4th 1713, 1721.)

6 Although the court is to treat a demurrer as admitting all material facts of the complaint as 7 true, this does not apply to contentions, deductions, or conclusions of law. (Aubry v. Tri-City Hosp.
8 Dist. (1992) 2 Cal.4th 962, 966-967.) Moreover, a demurrer cannot be defeated by allegations of 9 fact contrary to facts that are judicially noticed. (Del E. Webb Corp. v. Structural Materials Co.
10 (1981) 123 Cal.App.3d 593, 604; City of Chula Vista v. County of San Diego, supra, 23 Cal.App.4th 11 1713, 1719.) Thus, while allegations of a pleading are ordinarily deemed to be true on demurrer, 12 where an allegation is contrary to law or to a fact of which a court may take judicial notice, such 13 allegation is to be treated as a nullity. (Dale v. City of Mountain View (1976) 55 Cal.App.3d 101, 14 105; Fundin v. Chicago Pneumatic Tool Co. (1984) 152 Cal.App.3d 951, 955.)

15 B. All of Petitioner’s claims are subject to demurrer on multiple grounds.

16 1. Petitioner fails to establish standing for his requested writ(s) of mandate.

17 Petitioner requests a writ of mandate be issued for each of his causes of action. (Pet. ¶¶ 71-18 77.) To have standing to seek a writ of mandate, Petitioner is required to be “beneficially interested” 19 in the writ’s issuance—a standard that is “equivalent to the federal ‘injury in fact’ test, which 20 requires a party to prove ... it has suffered an invasion of a legally protected interest that is (a) 21 concrete and particularized, and (b) actual or imminent, not conjectural or hypothetical.” (California
22 Assn. for Health Services at Home v. State Dept. of Health Services (2007) 148 Cal.App.4th 696, 23 706-707, emphasis added.) Here, the Petition does not allege that Petitioner has or will suffer any 24 injury. Petitioner does not allege that he has a disability that would be impacted by the LED lights, 25 does not allege that he has ever been injured due to LED lights on the Bay Bridge, that he has or will 26 visit the Bay Bridge, or that he even lives near the Bay Bridge. In short, Petitioner fails to establish 27 that he is beneficially interested in the writs requested.

28 Relatedly, the Petition fails to allege facts sufficient for “public interest standing,” because 1 that exception “is usually applied in cases where an association sues on behalf of its members,” and 2 here Petitioner has sued as an individual (albeit without alleging any personal injury). (See 3 Blumhorst v. Jewish Family Services of Los Angeles (2005) 126 Cal.App.4th 993, 1004-1005 4 [declining to grant public interest standing due, in part, to the petitioner suing on behalf of only 5 himself].)

6 Because the Petition fails to state facts sufficient to establish the requisite standing for a writ 7 action, it fails as a matter of law. The State’s demurrer as to all causes of action should therefore be 8 sustained.

9 2. Demurrer is proper because the Petition is vague and uncertain.

10 Petitions are subject to demurrer if they fail to “furnish the defendants with certain definite 11 charges which can be intelligently met.” (Zumbrun v. Univ. of Southern California (1972) 25 12 Cal.App.3d 1, 8, internal citation omitted; see also Code Civ. Prov. § 430.10, subd. (f).) The 13 allegations here are inexact—broadly asserting all causes of action against all Respondents and 14 requesting the Court to direct all Respondents to simply comply with CEQA, NEPA, the ADA, 15 Section 504, and the Equal Protection Clause. (Pet. ¶¶ 71-77.) This is impermissibly vague and 16 uncertain. It is not the State’s responsibility to decipher Petitioner’s sweeping claims to find a 17 potentially viable one in order to defend against it. It should not be this Court’s task either.
18 Accordingly, the demurrer should be granted as to all causes of action against the State.

19 3. All claims are barred by laches.

20 The State joins fully in the arguments made by BATA and MTC in their Demurrer, that all 21 causes of action are barred based on laches; and incorporates the same herein.

22 C. The First Cause of Action for Alleged Violations of CEQA Fails as a Matter of Law 23 as Against the State.

24 1. The State is not the lead agency; therefore, the first cause of action fails to state a 25 CEQA claim against the State.

26 The crux of Petitioner’s first cause of action is that CEQA has been violated because a full 27 EIR was allegedly required and that the use of a CEQA categorical exemption as reflected in the 28 Notice of Exemption was unjustified. (Pet. ¶¶ 1, 4, 6, 21, 49-60.) Petitioner seeks an order directing all Respondents—including the State—to develop a “full CEQA analysis,” including an EIR. (Pet.

1 ¶¶ 60, 73.) Petitioner’s CEQA claims fail as a matter of law as against the State because the State is 2 not the lead agency—a fact the Petition expressly acknowledges. (Pet. ¶¶ 7, 36.)

3 Under CEQA, it is the lead agency that has the responsibility for determining whether an EIR 4 is required for a project. (Pub. Res. Code § 21080.1, subd. (a).) And, that determination by the lead 5 agency is final and conclusive on all persons, including responsible agencies. (Id.) It is also the lead 6 agency’s responsibility to determine whether a project is exempt from CEQA. (Cal. Code Regs., tit.
7 14 [CEQA Guidelines], § 15061, subd. (a).) Thus, whether the project was exempt from CEQA or 8 whether an EIR was required were determinations the State simply had no responsibility to—and 9 accordingly did not—make. As a matter of law, the Petition fails to state a claim under CEQA 10 against the State. The State’s demurrer to the First Cause of Action should therefore be sustained 11 without leave to amend.

12 2. The First Cause of Action is also barred by the CEQA statute(s) of limitations 13 period(s).

14 “CEQA provides unusually short statutes of limitations on filing court challenges to the 15 approval of projects under the act.” (CEQA Guidelines, § 15112, subd. (a).) The Legislature 16 intentionally created these short limitation periods because “the public interest is not served unless 17 CEQA challenges are promptly filed and diligently prosecuted.” (Stockton Citizens for Responsible 18 Planning v. City of Stockton (2010) 48 Cal.4th 481, 500 (hereafter Stockton), internal quotes omitted.)
19 “Decisions applying those strict limits account for ‘the Legislature’s clear determination’” that short 20 limitations were intentional to adequately serve the public interest.” (Guerrero v. City of Los Angeles 21 (2024) 98 Cal.App.5th 1087, 1102, review denied (Apr. 24, 2024).)

22 Failure to file a CEQA challenge within the prescribed statute of limitations is grounds for 23 demurrer and is fatal to the CEQA action. (Comm. for Green Foothills v. Santa Clara County Bd. of 24 Supervisors (2010) 48 Cal.4th 32, 42 (hereafter Green Foothills) [demurrer sustained without leave 25 to amend for failure to file action within the CEQA statute of limitations]; Stockton, supra, 48 26 Cal.4th at pp. 494-497, 500-501, 504 [same]; Save Lafayette Trees v. East Bay Regional Park Dist.
27 (2021) 66 Cal.App.5th 21, 35, 40-43 [same].) Thus, “[a]n untimely filed challenge is to be 28 dismissed.” (Guerrero v. City of Los Angeles, supra, 98 Cal.App.5th at p. 1099; see also Green
Foothills, supra, 48 Cal.4th at p. 42 [demurrer based on the CEQA statute of limitations is properly

1 sustained where the untimeliness of the action “clearly and affirmatively appear[s] on the face of the 2 complaint” and matters judicially noticed].)

3 Here, the Petitioner alleges his CEQA action was timely brought because it was filed within 4 180 days of the commencement of the Bay Lights 360 project (which allegedly commenced on 5 December 9, 2024). (Pet. ¶ 16.) In so alleging, Petitioner cites Public Resources Code section 21167, 6 subdivision (a). (Id.) But the limitations period set forth in Public Resources Code section 21167, 7 subdivision (a) does not apply here—where the lead agency has determined a project is exempt from 8 CEQA and has filed a Notice of Exemption. Instead, the applicable statute of limitations is set forth 9 in Public Resources Code section 21167, subdivision (d), which mandates that an action challenging 10 a CEQA categorical exemption by a local agency be commenced within 35 days of the local public 11 agency’s filing of a notice of exemption with the clerk of the county in which the project will be 12 located. (Pub. Res. Code, § 21167, subd. (d), [former] § 21152, subd. (b); CEQA Guidelines, § 13 15112, subd. (c)(2); Stockton, supra, 48 Cal.4th at p. 512 [the filing of a notice of exemption triggers 14 the 35-day limitations period in Pub. Res. Code, § 21167, subd. (d)].)

15 The Petition acknowledges that a Notice of Exemption was issued and that BATA, the lead 16 agency, filed its Notice of Exemption with the San Francisco County Clerk on August 15, 2023. (Pet.
17 ¶¶ 4, 36.) Indeed, BATA’s Notice of Exemption was issued on July 21, 2023 and was filed with the 18 county clerk on August 15, 2023. (RJN, Exh. C.) At the time BATA filed its Notice of Exemption, 19 Public Resources Code section 21152, subdivision (b) called only for the filing of a local agency’s 20 notice of exemption with the county clerk. (See [former] Public Res. Code, § 21152, subd. (b).)³

21 Thus, under Public Resources Code section 21167, subdivision (d) and (former) Public 22 Resources Code section 21152, subdivision (b), Petitioner had thirty-five days from August 15, 2023
23 to file an action under CEQA (i.e., until September 19, 2023). The Petition, however, was not filed 24 until December 16, 2024—over one year after CEQA’s 35-day statute of limitations had expired. As 25 a result, the CEQA claim is barred as a matter of law.

26 In addition to the above, the State hereby adopts in full the other statute(s) of limitations 27

28 ³ Section 21152, subdivision (b) was amended, effective January 1, 2024, and now provides that a local agency which chooses to file a notice of exemption must file it with both the county clerk and the State Clearinghouse.

1 arguments asserted by BATA and MTC in their Demurrer, including all judicially noticed matters
2 relied on, and incorporates the same herein. In summary, on the face of the Petition and all judicially 3 noticed matter(s), Petitioner’s CEQA action is barred by the statute(s) of limitations. This defect 4 cannot be cured by amendment. For this reason, the First Cause of Action must be sustained without 5 leave to amend. (Code Civ. Proc., § 430.10, subd. (a).)

6 D. This Court Lacks Jurisdiction over the Second Cause of Action for Alleged 7 Violation of NEPA

8 Petitioner’s Second Cause of Action alleges all Respondents, including the State, have failed 9 to comply with NEPA. (Pet. ¶¶ 61-63.) Challenges under NEPA, however, are federal question 10 claims over which state courts have no jurisdiction.

11 It is well settled that the mechanism for challenging an agency’s compliance with NEPA is 12 under the judicial review provisions of the federal Administrative Procedure Act (“APA”). (Ctr. for 13 Biol. Diversity v. Bernhardt (9th Cir. 2020) 982 F.3d 723, 733 [NEPA challenges must be reviewed 14 under the federal APA]; Cetacean Cmty. v. Bush (9th Cir. 2004) 386 F.3d 1169, 1179 [same, citing 15 Lujan v. Nat’l Wildlife Fed’n (1990) 97 U.S. 871, 882]; 42 U.S.C. §§ 4321 et seq. [NEPA 16 codification]; 5 U.S.C. §§ 551 et seq. [APA codification].) State courts do not have jurisdiction over 17 federal APA actions; rather, Congress has specifically limited jurisdiction over actions brought under 18 the APA to the federal courts. (Califano v. Sanders (1977) 430 U.S. 99, 105-107 [the jurisdictional 19 basis for APA claims is 28 U.S.C., section 1331, which grants original jurisdiction over federal 20 questions to the federal district courts].) Consistent with this rule, state courts have no jurisdiction 21 over NEPA actions. (Quantification Settlement Agreement Cases (2011) 201 Cal.App.4th 758, 832-22 833, 835 [federal courts have exclusive jurisdiction over APA actions; state courts have no 23 jurisdiction over NEPA actions]; see also generally 5 U.S.C. §§ 702-706.)

24 Under Code of Civil Procedure section 430.10, subdivision (a), demurrer is proper where the 25 court has no jurisdiction of the subject of the cause of action alleged in the pleading. Because, as a 26 matter of settled law, state courts have no jurisdiction to hear NEPA claims, the demurrer to the 27 Second Cause of Action against the State must be sustained without leave to amend.

28 E. The ADA Claim Must Be Dismissed as a Matter of Law Under Code of Civil Procedure § 430.10(e)

1 Petitioner’s Third Cause of Action alleges all Respondents, including the State, have failed to 2 comply with ADA requirements and seeks a writ of mandate directing respondents to “develop an 3 ADA analysis.” (Pet. ¶¶ 67, 75.) The Third Cause of Action must be dismissed because Petitioner 4 fails to identify any violation of law that would allow the Court to grant the injunctive relief sought, 5 and otherwise fails to state facts sufficient to constitute an ADA cause of action against the State.

6 First, injunctive relief cannot be granted for any claim where there is no violation of existing 7 law. (Common Cause v. Board of Supervisors (1989) 49 Cal.3d 432, 445-446 [injunction not an 8 available remedy to require a government to take action that is not required by law].) Petitioner seeks 9 a writ of mandate ordering the performance of an “ADA Analysis,” but the Petition itself concedes 10 that “there is no specific law that requires an ‘ADA analysis’ for a project.” (Pet. ¶¶ 6, 67.) Indeed, 11 nothing in the ADA or its implementing regulations requires an “ADA analysis” as part of an 12 environmental impact report or other process prior to the implementation of the public entity’s 13 program or construction of the improvement or facility. (See 42 U.S.C. §§ 12131 – 12165; 28 C.F.R.
14 § 35.101, et seq.) The Petition makes the conclusory statement that “public agencies must take some 15 type of action to ensure that the Project complies with ADA requirements, including 28 C.F.R. § 16 35.151(b)(1)” but alleges nothing so requiring as to the State and, instead, admits that the Federal 17 Food and Drug Administration—the agency responsible for regulating LED products—has no 18 performance standards for such products. (Pet. ¶¶ 24, 67.) Further, compliance with 28 C.F.R. § 19 35.151 is determined by the ADA Accessibility Standards, which do not contain any standards 20 addressing LED lights. (See 28 C.F.R. § 35.151(c)(3); Oliver v. Ralphs Grocery Co. (9th Cir. 2011) 21 654 F.3d 903, 905 [“In general, a facility is ‘readily accessible to and usable by individuals with 22 disabilities’ if it meets the requirements promulgated by the Attorney General in the ‘ADA 23 Accessibility Guidelines’”], internal citations omitted; RJN Exh. G.)

24 As such, there simply is no legal basis supporting Petitioner’s claim for a writ of mandate 25 ordering an “ADA analysis” in an EIR or otherwise; or for the corresponding request for injunctive 26 relief until “full compliance” with the ADA occurs. The demurrer to the ADA claim should therefore 27 be sustained without leave to amend.

28 Second, Petitioner otherwise fails to state a claim under the ADA. To properly state a claim

1 for a violation of Title II⁴ of the ADA, Petitioner is required to allege that:

2 (1) he is a qualified individual with a disability;

3 (2) he was either excluded from participation in or denied the benefits of a public 4 entity's services, programs or activities, or was otherwise discriminated against by the 5 public entity ("injured"); and 6 (3) such exclusion, denial of benefits, or discrimination was by reason of his disability.

7 (Weinreich v. Los Angeles County. Metro. Transp. Auth. (9th Cir. 1997) 114 F.3d 976, 978.)

8 The Petition does not allege any of the required elements or facts in support thereof.

9 Instead, his allegations only generally reference unspecified "individuals with disabilities[.]" (Pet. ¶¶ 10 3, 4, 21, 22, 23, 30, 44, 64, 66, 68, 69, 70.) But the ADA does not permit private plaintiffs to bring 11 claims as private attorneys general to vindicate other people's injury. (See McInnis-Misenor v.
12 Maine Medical Center (1st Cir. 2003) 319 F.3d 63, 69.) Having failed to allege the requisite 13 elements or any facts supporting an ADA claim, the claim must be dismissed. (See Chapman v. Pier 14 1 Imports (U.S.) Inc. (9th Cir. 2011) 631 F.3d 939, 954 [dismissing ADA claim due to lack of 15 standing where plaintiff never alleged that he personally suffered discrimination under the ADA on 16 account of his disability]⁵; Elbert v. New York State Dept. of Correctional Services (S.D.N.Y. 2010) 17 751 F.Supp.2d 590, 596 [failure to state an ADA claim where plaintiff had not sufficiently alleged 18 that he was excluded from participation in a program or activity, or otherwise treated differently, 19 because of his disability]; Bouslog v. Care Options Management Plans and Supportive Services, 20 LLC (N.D. Cal. 2020) 459 F.Supp.3d 1281, 1286-1287 (hereafter Bouslog) [dismissing plaintiff's 21 ADA and Section 504 claims when plaintiff did not plead she was denied services by reason of her 22 disabled status].)

23 For all of the forgoing reasons, the demurrer to the Third Cause of Action should be sustained 24 without leave to amend.

25 ///

26 ⁴ The statutory framework applicable here falls within Title II of the ADA. (42 U.S.C. §§ 12131 – 12165; 28 C.F.R. § 27 35.101, et seq.)

28 ⁵ While Chapman involved challenges under Title III of the ADA (which addresses discrimination in public accommodations, rather than Title II (which applies to discrimination in public services), courts have considered both Title II and Title III cases when analyzing injury pleadings. (Kirola v. City and County of San Francisco, supra, 860 F.3d at p. 1174, n.3.)

1 F. The Section 504 Claim Must Be Dismissed as a Matter of Law Under Code of Civil
2 Procedure § 430.10(e)

3 Petitioner’s Fourth Cause of Action alleging violations of Section 504 should be dismissed 4 for the same reasons as his ADA claim. Title II of the ADA and Section 504 are “interpreted 5 coextensively because ‘there is no significant difference in the analysis of rights and obligations 6 created by the two Acts.’ [Citation.]” (Payan v. Los Angeles Cmty. Coll. Dist. (9th Cir. 2021) 11 7 F.4th 729, 737.) As discussed above, the Petition admits there is no law require an ADA analysis.
8 As further discussed, Petitioner does not identify any existing violation of law that would allow the 9 Court to grant him the requested relief; nor has Petitioner made the requisite allegations that he is a 10 qualified individual with a disability who has suffered a concrete, individual injury. As such, he 11 correspondingly fails to state a claim under Section 504. (See 29 U.S.C. § 794(a); see also Bouslog, 12 supra, 459 F.Supp.3d at pp. 1286-1287 [“[b]ecause [Section 504] incorporates [all the elements of] a 13 claim under Title II of the ADA, if plaintiff fails to allege her claim under Title II of the ADA, 14 [plaintiff] will also fail to allege [a] claim under [Section 504]”].)

15 Accordingly, the demurrer to the Fourth Cause of Action should be sustained without leave 16 to amend.

17 G. The “Sixth” Cause of Action for Alleged Violation of the Equal Protection Clause
18 Fails as a Matter of Law as Against the State.

19 Petitioner alleges the State has violated the Equal Protection Clause for failing to implement 20 a policy “to equally protect individuals with disabilities from exposure to LED lights[.]” (Pet. ¶ 70.)
21 The Equal Protection Clause claim fails for three distinct and independent reasons.

22 First, identification of a specific law that is being challenged is a threshold Equal Protection 23 claim requirement. (HSH, Inc. v. City of El Cajon (S.D. Cal. 2014) 44 F.Supp.3d 996, 1006 [“to 24 accomplish [the first step in equal protection analysis], a plaintiff can show that the law is applied in 25 a discriminatory manner or imposes different burdens on different classes of people”], emphasis 26 added; see also People v. Moore (2021) 68 Cal.App.5th 856, 862 [“we ask at the threshold whether 27 two classes that are different in some respects are sufficiently similar with respect to the laws in 28 question to require the government to justify its differential treatment of these classes under those

1 laws.”] internal citation omitted, emphasis added.)

2 Petitioner’s Equal Protection Clause claim does not point to any law that contains an 3 improper classification or that has allegedly been applied in a discriminatory manner. Instead, his 4 claim turns on the lack of a “policy” that protects individuals from exposure to LED lights. (Pet. ¶ 5 70.) But, again, Petitioner has not—and cannot—point to any law that requires consideration of the 6 impact of LED lights on persons with disabilities, in any context. Indeed, his own Petition concedes 7 that there are no performance standards for LED products. (Pet. ¶ 24.) Accordingly, Petitioner’s 8 Equal Protection claim fails as a matter of law and the demurrer should therefore be sustained 9 without leave to amend. (See HSH, Inc. v. City of El Cajon, supra, 44 F.Supp.3d 996 at pp. 1008-10 1009 [equal protection claim dismissed for failure to point to portion of challenged Ordinance that 11 imposed different burdens on different classes of people].)

12 Second, the Equal Protection Clause broadly requires the government to treat similarly 13 situated people equally. (Hartman v. California Dep’t of Corr. and Rehabilitation (9th Cir. 2013) 14 707 F.3d 1114, 1123.) To state an equal protection claim, a plaintiff must allege that defendants 15 acted with an intent or purpose to discriminate against him based upon his membership in a 16 protected class. (Furnace v. Sullivan (9th Cir. 2013) 705 F.3d 1021, 1030.) Indeed, “[t]o state an 17 equal protection claim of any stripe, whatever the level of scrutiny it invites, a plaintiff must show 18 that the defendant treated the plaintiff differently from similarly situated individuals.” (Pimentel v.
19 Dreyfus (9th Cir. 2012) 670 F.3d 1096, 1106, emphasis added.)⁶

20 As addressed above, Petitioner alleges no harm to himself; he does not allege that he was 21 treated differently by the State. He merely alleges the State and other Respondent do not have a 22 policy that protects “individuals with disabilities” from exposure to LED light. (Pet. ¶ 70.) Further, 23 Petitioner fails to allege that he was treated differently from similarly situated individuals—a 24 threshold requirement for any equal protection claim. (Pimentel v. Dreyfus, supra, 670 F.3d at p.
25 1106.) Having failed to allege one or more threshold elements of an equal protection claim, the 26 demurrer to Petitioner’s “Sixth” Cause of Action should be sustained without leave to amend as 27

28 ⁶ Although it is unnecessary to reach this aspect of an equal protection analysis, it is noted that disability is not a suspect class for Equal Protection purposes. (See Pierce v. County of Orange (9th Cir. 2008) 526 F.3d 1190, 1225.)

1 against the State. (See Voronin v. Garland (C.D. Cal., Apr. 20, 2021, No. 2:20-CV-07019-ODW 2 (AGRX)) 2021 WL 1546957, at *5 [equal protection claim dismissed with prejudice where plaintiff 3 failed to make both a threshold showing of disparate treatment of plaintiff among similarly situated 4 individuals or the actual imposition of the challenged statute on him]; Gama v. Board of Trustees of 5 California State University (9th Cir. 2020) 808 Fed.Appx. 591, 592-593 [affirming dismissal of equal 6 protection claim where plaintiff did not allege he was treated differently from any similarly situated 7 person].)

8 Third, as set forth in BATA and MTC’s Demurrer, which the State has joined, Petitioner’s 9 constitutionally based cause of action is precluded as a matter of law because he has a statutory 10 remedy.

11 For all of these reasons, the “Sixth” Cause of Action fails, and the State’s demurrer should be 12 sustained without leave to amend.

13 IV. CONCLUSION

14 For the forgoing reasons, all causes of action alleged against the State are fatally deficient.
15 The State’s demurrer should therefore be sustained without leave to amend.
